SILVER PAYMENTS

WALL STREET, MONDAY, Oct. 27-6 P. M. One of the significant and encouraging elements the present financial condition is to be found in fact that there no longer exists the strong dividuality which made speculation hazardous. ac capital which constituted the power of the Ith the most favorable opportunity presented for any years, he is unable to retain control of the It has therefore been abandoned to the wowd. An place would now produce about the same oct. The panic has proved a common leveller, nd the man who gives the most "points" is apt to found poorest among the poor, with only ascience for his capital and whatever he can nulacture from imaginary material for his stock trade. We find here some of

There are a hundred hands ling them down; and, although this locality is ly an integral part of the great financial map, debility thus developed ramifles elsewhere. and by mere sympathetic action has become an element of universal distrust. Practically, howover, regarded from a speculative point of view. nation is not so gloomy as it may appear s I giance. Values generally are resting on a more substantial basis. The bubble of inflation has been pricked. Money possesses a larger purchasing STOCKS HAVE CHEAPENED,

There is such thing, however, as "panic prices" again-a annot be safely forced, even in speculation, for eaction then becomes inevitable, and the reold what they did not own." While, therecombinations have been dissolved the once regnant powers of 'Change been dethroned it behooves the lative community to deal caufiously ith the present market, and not to be too pron o yield to the demoralizing influences that have seen already set at work by a much larger and ore reckiess element of Wall street than even the leaders to whom we have referred. There is NO CAUSE FOR DISMAY.

The clouds are brightening. To use the language a bank president to-day :- "The financial outlook s better than it has been at any time since the anic commenced. The banks are gaining nearly a ion of dollars a day in greenbacks, and it is robable that when they cease 'pooling' at the learing House they will stand far better an they now anticipate. Nor has there een a time in the history of several of ne banking institutions in which brokers are kept such large balances as during the past wo or three weeks. Again, merchants have been ng a more cautious business, and there are had debts than are usual at this season of the year, ticle was to appear to-morrow, calculated to depress this stock. The orders for sale, howit is at the present mement engineered by a class of men who have nothing to lose and are preving er instances of loss of money among them from on the street. It will not be long, however, until their power will be destroyed, for in sixty days money will, in my judgment, be cheaper in New York than it has been in ten years." The forego-ing are encouraging words, and the gentleman who attered them is not alone in his measurement of the situation.

SILVER PAYMENT. If one measures intentions by facts there has been "much ado about nothing." Somebody in the Freasury Department gave out the idea that silver was to be disbursed to an extent that would soon make it a circulating medium. It appears, how-over, that the public agitation which has followed the announcement has defeated the object in view: in other words, that the demand has been much greater than was anticipated, and that the Freasury cannot carry out its policy. It is stated telegraphically from Washington that "in consequence of large orders already sent to the Treasury by telegraph for coin by bankers, merchants, railroad companies and hotel keepers, Secretary Richardson has deemed a change necessary in the policy of resumption announced on Friday ast. He will not exchange silver for currency, as first intended, but for the present, at least, ar until the demand is not so great, he will adhere to the plan of paying off bills against the government partly in silver." If a person holds a drait on the Treasury, or on any Assistant Treasurer, part of it will be paid in silver, say to the amount of five dollars."

"Say to the amount of five dollars!" Coming from the government of the United States, that remark is thoroughly conservative. THE BARROOMS of New York are already making silver change for drinks and cigars in larger proportions, and the Secretary of the Treasury only confesses his weak-ness and want of financial foresight when he au-thorizes the declaration that "the amount on hand is only half a million of dollars, which it was be-lieved until to-day, when the demands for silver became known, would be enough to enable the Becretary to place the currency on a silver basis." The amount of fractional currency is about $40,000,000. Five hundred thousand dollars in silver is therefore a decidedly microscopic apex on which to rest this inverted pyramid.

THE HOARDING OF SILVER that has commenced is simply frightful. There is not a man with a pair of babies old enough to teep a tin bank who does not take his drinks and sigars with most intemperate regularity, throw sown a greenback and demand his change in silser, at the expense of a patriotic barkeeper, who will probably never see it again. The sight of a solid representative for a greenback is too tempting to be resisted, and if there were $20,000,000 of silver, instead of $500,000, it would doubtless find its way into the old stockings of the country.

THE MONEY MARKET.

In the early part of the day money was easy at per cent. Later, however, it advanced to 1-32 a 1-16 per diem, and yet later, at the close, when the banks made up their accounts, it was offered at 5 and 6 per cent. Discounts were unchanged, being still quoted at 12, 18 and 24 per cent, according to the character of the names. Foreign exchange was dull and nominal at 106% a 106% for bankers' sixty days' sterling and 108 for sight. The associated banks to day gained about 180,000 in legal tenders, and the amount of these lotes now reported is between eleven and twelve nillions, but the actual amount in the banks is 100 arger. Silver is quoted at 3% a 4 per cent premium and trade dollars 10% a 12 per cent. Green-backs are nominally % a % per cent premium. THE GOLD MARKET,

Gold was heavy and declined from 108%, the opening price, to 108% at the close. The rates paid for carrying to-day were 5, 6, 7, 1-16 and 1-32 per cent, the final rate being 1-32 per cent. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank to-day were as follows:—

The Treasury to-day commenced to anticipate the November interest, without rebate, which weak-ened the gold premium; $250 were paid out. The sum total paid out by the Assistant Treasurer to-day was $768,000 on account of interest and $18,000 in redemption of 5-20 bonds.

BANK SHARES. Bank shares sold at 96 for Republic. New York was bid for at 116, Union at 125, America at 130, American Exchange at 192, Market at 110, Importers and Traders' at 135, Central National at 78 and Fourth National at 90.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE. The dealings at the Stock ExcHANGE.

The dealings at the Stock Board to-day have amounted to about 120,000 shares, the leading features being as usual—the Vanderbilt line of stocks, on which determined assault has been made, although a considerable "short" interest is alleged to have been created. The principal objective point of attack by a certain class was New York Central, among whom the "point" been distributed that a newspaper arof any advance. Evidently there is in the market a new combination, and, while the wheels of the machinery do not work together, just enough of result is expected for a few hours to effect an object. With personal animosities we have nothing to do; but for a body of men who create rumors and lend themselves to their propagation, and who welcome everything in print that savors of a momentary sensation which measures itself by fractions of one per cent, there is no complimentary language. They belong to a broken market, count on panic for their profits, and cart away supposititious ruins for their merchandise. Eventually they will bring them back.

MONDAY, Oct. 27-6 P. M. The markets ruled very quiet to-day as a general thing, and values tended toward a lower basis for many descriptions of merchandise. Business at the Produce Exchange was light—the movement in grain being retarded by the scarcity of freight delivery at considerably above the prevailing prices, as may be seen by reference to the details appenbeing quotably lower. Corn was in fair request at the improvement. Oats were depressed by freer arrivals and were lower. Whiskey was also lower, owing to the same cause. Pork was sold was steady, with a fair inquiry. Naval stores were firm with some sales at rather higher prices. Petro-leum was unchanged. Freights were firmer. Groceries were dull, but values were not essentially changed. #### THE CIGARMAKERS' STRIKE. More Men Discharged-Views of the Manufacturers.

The strike of the sixty-five cigarmakers of Mora & Co., No. 62 Water street, continued yesterday, and the firm are now resolved not to take any of the men back, under any circumstances, until the return of Mr. Mora from Havana, A member of the firm told a HERALD reporter that they would certainly insist for the future upon the old scale of prices, as published yesterday.

Mr. Vega, of No. 187 Pearl street, who employs twenty-five cigarmakers, and Mr. Sanchez, of No.

114 Maiden lane, who employs forty, said they would not discharge any of their men. Mr. Sanchez would not discharge any of their men. Mr. Sanchez said he was asked by Mora & Co. to join them in reducing the prices, but he refused to listen to their overtures.

Mr. Pender, of Losano, Pender & Co., of No. 96 Maiden iane, who employs forty-two men, said they might discharge some of their men on Saturday if business should still continue to be dull.

Mr. A. Lierena, of Lierena & Co., No. 105 Maiden iane, who employ twenty-five cigarmakers, said they would not reduce the wages, but propose to their men on Saturday next that they make less cigars—12,000 instead of 20,000—at the old rates, so as not to be compelled to discharge any of them. The cigarmakers ought to agree voluntarily to return to the old rates less the trade be crippled by the present exorbitant wages.

E. E. Romay & F. C. Saavedra, of No. 32 Wall street, discharged twelve men yesterday on account of trade being so dull. They said that they would ask their men on Saturday next to return to the old rates.

"La Protectura Union" has resolved to pay the married men who are out of work $10 a week and the single men $7 a week. The Union will hold another meeting in Military Hall on Saturday evening. There are about 100 out of the 600 Cubans in the business out of work. Some of them will undoubtedly be sent to New Orleans and Key West by the Union.
